AMERICAN CHANGE.

The characteristic of American political and social life which first and most strongly impresses foreigners is that everything is in a state of change. Nothing seems fixed, constitutions, laws, officials, customs, or even wealth and position of old families. To observers there is ceaseless hurry and perpetual motion like the surface of rapids at Niagara. It is not strange if this has suggested to others than Mr. Carlyle the thought that democracy is soon to take its plunge over the cataract.

There is change everywhere, says the New York Tribune, and perpetual change. But it is not, on the whole, change for the worse. The nation grows fast in numbers, wealth, physical necessities, moral aspirations, and it is a happy thing that its framework can be so quickly adapted to its needs. Slower growth in the old countries does perhaps in part excuse greater difficulty of change, but all the older nations are in fact hampered and burdened, if not crippled, by forms and methods which they have outgrown. It is a startling change, but not necessarily a change for the worse, when a million people are transferred in a few years to four territories, first empty, now about to assume the dignity of great states. It is not necessarily for the worse that even the Oklahoma boomers have occupied with rude beginnings of civilization a land hitherto tenanted only by cattle, or that cities with banks and stores, government officials and mails, grow up in a day. Neither is it necessarily an evil that laws of the states are constantly being altered; that legislatures like those of New York and New Jersey leave behind them changes so general and sweeping that lawyers must almost begin the study of the law over again. In many cases, if not in most, the changes are those demanded by popular experience of evils under the forms and methods formerly existing.

In truth, upon a deeper look it will be seen that the surface is indeed broken and torn by perpetual motion, like that of the rapids above Niagara, and that beneath there is a steady and resistless current which the countless eddies do not impede, only the current is moving not downward but upward. Most of the innumerable changes in laws, in methods, in judicial decisions, are for the greater protection of the people's right, or the defence of oppressed classes, or the removal of old abuses. Many of them tend to increase the rewards of labor, many afford greater security to its savings, many insure readier expression of the popular will. So it comes to pass that the people are, in fact, better protected than at any former time, with more impartial courts; that wages are better though lands are dearer and scarcer, and that the people have more comforts though the country is more crowded.

The crowning feature is the demonstrated grip of American common sense, to hold fast that which proves good. Changes are tried which on close scrutiny prove unsound or in methods mistaken, and these are quickly reversed. Thus the movement toward "tariff reform" by lowering of duties has convinced the country that it was a mistake, and the tendency is already in the opposite direction. Some reformers bewail the abandonment of civil service reform, but the truth is they have mistaken show for substance, and fancied that mere Chinese methods would bring blessings, and the public loses interest in a worship of form in place of practical results. But every good change stays. It is a striking fact, which will bear closer study than most statesmen have given it, that in every instance the reform which has approved itself in practical working has quickly become as solid and durable as the everlasting hills. When it is realized with what inexorable right the people hold fast every inch gained for freedom, for justice, for good government and the well-being of the citizen, then it may seem that American ceaseless change is in practical result American progress.

A POINT FOR PROTECTION.

The cotton goods industry is one of the most prosperous and promising in the south. The cotton mills, the spindles, and the production have more than doubled in the last nine years, and the increase still continues. The activity in this branch of industry is well shown by the fact that fifteen companies have been organized to build mills in the last three weeks, with a capital of $2,870,000. It is a significant fact that a number of them were started by capital from New England, a section which formerly monopolized this industry, and that two more Massachussets concerns which have been transferred to the south, because they have found it to their advantage to be nearer to the cotton fields.—New Orleans, Times-Democrat.

This is one of the strongest points for protection that could be made by a democratic paper. There never was a cotton mill erected in the south under the slaveocracy and free trade—not one. There never was an iron or a coal mine developed under the dominion of Calhounism. When free trade and slavery were the darling pets of the southerner, the south was nearly fifty years behind the times in material growth.

Under the new order of things, with slavery dead, and the republican principle of protection ruling in the land, the south has made wonderful strides. It is redeeming itself, and is doing wonders in a material way, without the stimulous afforded by protection, there could not be any of the spreading industries in the south that the Times-Democrat speaks of. The political leaders of the south see this, and many of them favor protection but are so wedded to the democratic party and all its traditions, that they will support the most ultra free trader if he be a democrat, than vote for a republican who is a protectionists. The march of industrial progress under the inspiration of protection has no claims for Calhounites when it comes to voting for a free trader for president. The southern people prosper under protection, and then vote to strike a deadly blow to the source of their prosperity.

THE NEXT CENSUS.

A report from Washington says that the sum of $6,400,000 is the maximum cost of the census of 1890, and that one million is now available. The report goes on in substance to say that the enumerators are employed for from two to four weeks. It takes the supervisors longer, but in the offices of the bureau in Washington comes the grand task of the census. Eight topics only according to law can be treated of, but the number of volumes is not limited. It has been a favorite notion of Mr. Porter, that the census of 1880, while it was most exhaustive, was too cumbersome, inaccessible and slow. No doubt one effort of his will be to publish the volumes in three or four years, and by decreasing their number and size, bring the practical information yielded by the census more easily within the grasp of the people. General Walker did wonders, but he tried to do too much.

Mr. Porter will try to adopt some practical reforms in taking the census and everybody hopes that he will succeed. The last census was good, but there was too much of it for practical use.

Another example of contumacy on the part of a college faculty is reported from Indiana. It appears that it is the custom at Purdue university to make a small riot at the junior entertainment, even though it is given undr the sanction of the faculty. When, however, a large torpedo was exploded at the feet of one of the professors, while he was offering prayer, even the faculty turned, and two lower class men were suspended. Sophomores, being young men of spirit, promptly resolved that the would leave the college if the suspensions were not rescined, and their attitude is sustained by other class men. At last accounts the faculty were still holding out and manifesting every disposition to persist in their high handed and unjustifiable course. We hope soon to hear, however, that they have been brought to terms and made to repent bitterly.

Missouri has joined the procession. Saturday her legislature passed a ballot-reform bill which, according to a dispatch from St. Louis, is what is known as the Australian election law, with some modifications. The Governor of Missouri is a democrat, but if he is wise in his generation he will sign the bill. The Governor of Missouri has a fine opportunity afforded him to do the people of his state and his political perty a signal service.

"I had rather be a kitten and cry mew' than groan all night and scold all day with neuralgia, when one little bottle of Salvation Oil would make me gentle and well. Pusey, wouldn't you?

Coughs, hoarseness, asthma or any irritation of the throat or bronchial tubes will be relieved by taking Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. It has cured thousands. Recommend it to your friend and neighbor.

CRUELTIES TO THE INDIANS.

Alleged Outrages by the Police at the Flathead Reservation.

HELENA, Mont., May 7.—The people of Missoula, the nearest town to the Flathead reservation, are much wrought up over a well-authenticated report of horrible practices of the Indian police on the Flathead reservation. The religious and moral teachers are said to encourage the savages in their cruel practices. Each Sunday is made a grand whipping day at the mission. The Indian women are generally the victims of this torture. An Indian woman was Thursday whipped with her hands tied behind her back and then thrust into prison. During her confinement there vermin gnawed her feet and wounded back and when removed Saturday she was a mass of putrefaction and died from her injuries.

Married His Loved English Beauty.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 7.—Frank G. Pakenham, of this city, and Miss May Russell of the London Gaiety Company, were quietly married in Detroit last week. The couple met in London five years ago, but Pakenham's father opposed his son's marriage, and to prevent the union bundled his son off to America, having supplied him liberally with cash. While the burlesquers were in Chicago the fair songstress secured a vacation. Alone she came to Minneapolis. When she left for Detroit Pakenham was her companion. The cards now read "Mr. and Mrs. Pakenham."

A Babe in the House

is the source of much sunshine and joy, brightening many a dark cloud and lightening many a heavy load—but joys continual abide only in a healthy body. The Creator with great wisdom has distributed over the earth vegetable remedies for every ill of human kind. This marvelous Labratory reveals its secrets to man only by long and searching labor. Few men have attained greater success than Dr. R. V. Pierce; nor devised for suffering humanity a greater production than his "Golden Medical Discovery," the unfailing remedy for consumption in its earlier stages, as well as for chronic nasal catarrh, scrofula, tumors and all blood disorders.

In the little comedy, "The Silent System," which M. Coquelin played with Mrs. Booth at the former's benefit in New York recently, the "business" requires that he should give her a diamond bracelet. The one used was genuine and extremely handsome, and at the end of the play, Mrs. Booth, who thought it was "property," was about to hand it back, when she was informed by M. Coquelin that she was to keep it as a mark of his esteem. The bracelet bore the name of M. Coquelin and Mrs. Booth, the title of the play in which they appeared, and the date of the performance.

A BRILLIANT OPENING.

THE PARIS EXPOSITION FORMALLY INAUGURATED.

MM. Tirard's and Carnot's Addresses—All Diplomates Unofficially Present—Nations Joining in the Show.

PARIS, May 7.—At 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, surrounded by his ministers and many distinguished guests, President Carnot stood under the great dome of the Exposition building formally to declare it open.

The speeches by the President and others were characterized alike by tact and taste, and the solitary marring incident, the blank cartridge discharged by a maudlin sensationalist, who it has been ascertained to be a harmless imbecile deserving only pity, has already been forgotten.

With the President were Premier Tirard Yoes Guyot, minister of public works, and MM. Lockray, Rouvier, Le Grand, Berger, Dautresme, and Christophile, the ablest of the bureau heads.

The President's cortege arrived at the exposition grounds, escorted by the brilliant corps of cuirassiers whose breastplates and hemlets flashed back the pleasant May-day sun. The crystal tones of the great clocks struck 2, the trumpets poured forth their strains, and the entire assembly under the dome arose to its feet. It was a spectacle worth remembering. Conceive a great circle formed under a dome suggestive of St. Paul's, decorations reaching to the apex, noble in symbolism and allusion, the art and literature of all countries noted by ingenious and graceful devices, the names of the world's greatest emblazoned in gold letters, the various emblems of civilization arranged pictorially upon segments of arches, and a colossal frieze extending entirely around the base of the dome composed of magnificent processional national types of all races bearing appropriate offerings. Beneath this luminous and rich roof are hundreds of arm chairs, single chairs, and benches, all in gold upholstering, with the arms in crimson brocade or velvet, and a dais, arranged with heavy red draperies, for the President and his train. Extending in the lines of a parallelogram, with an endless vista through the palace of fine arts, are places all in red velvet, for the Senators and Deputies, judges, heads of departments, chiefs of bureaus, mayors, members of the great councils, the French academy, the Institute of France, the clergy and civil functionaries. The surprise of the day was the presence of all the diplomatic representatives now in Paris while their governments declined to permit them officially to assist in the opening of the exposition, personal good will and possibly private curiosity have overcome the prohibition, and they were all unofficially present. The letter of their instructions has been kept, while the spirit is broken. It is a sight that can be seen nowhere except in Paris. Only one foreign representative is in austere black, unrelieved by any decoration. This is Mr. Robert McLane, the retiring minister of the United States, who is greeted with cordial warmth on every side.

After the "Marseillaise" had been played by a picked orchestra and sung by a chorus of men's voices, Premier Tirard rose to deliver the opening speech. It is a judicious speech and pronounced with moderate but wisely regulated force. It makes an excellent impression, and at its close the audience cheer enthusiastically and M. Tirard is warmly congratulated by the officials surrounding him.

When President Carnot arose to read his speech a slight tremor seizes Mme. Carnot, who clasps her elegantly gloved hands together and leans a little forward in her chair as if desirous of not losing a word. The President's voice is shrill but audible. His speech is well thought out, and he is able frequently to take his eyes from the manuscript. He knows the good points of its well-turned phrases, and for each receives greater applause that any of that Tirard's evoked. His peroration is delivered with considerable earnestness. Every word is safe, prudent, plausible, and generous. It was several minutes before the President was permitted to take his seat. The musical program was then at once proceeded with. President Carnot descended from the dais and walked down the main aisle of the gallery of fine arts toward the center, where he touched several electric buttons. In a moment the fountains of the exposition were all pouring forth their streams to the universal sunshine and the great engine of the machinery palace was in motion. The 300,000 or 400,000 people outside and inside cheer, and every portion of the grounds of the universal exposition of 1889 is open.

The exhibitors number 30,000. At night Paris was ablaze with illuminations. No vehicles were permitted in the streets.

The exposition of 1889 is unlike all its predecessors in certain large respects. The chief of these is its emphasis of the inherent conservatism of skilled labor.

The countries represented by their skill are, in addition to France and the United States, Great Britain, Austria, Hungary, Italy, Switzerland, Russia, Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Holland, Belgium, Spain, Portugal, Greece, Roumania, Servia, Egypt, Persia, Mexico, Brazil, the Argentine Republic, Bolivia, Chili, Nicaragua, Venezuela, Guatemala, Uruguay, Paraguay, San Domingo, Salvador, Hayti, China, Japan, East India, Siam, Morocco, and Australasia. The unrepresented countries are Germany—an absence as inevitable as it is deplorable and conspicuous—Turkey, and Montenegro.

The American corn palace, where the uses of this article of food are to be picturesquely introduced to Europeans, is located near the Trocadero. Its success is uncertain.

The registered population of 2,250,000 is already augmented by large contingents from the various departments of France and from all quarters of Europe and the continents of America and Australia. The accommodations for strangers are ample, but, as happens in every other city under corresponding circumstances the prices of necessaries and indulgences have risen. The arrangements for the policing of the exposition buildings and the city are complete, and, as is generally true of Paris, are admirable. The admission to the exposition grounds is only 20 cents for all the departments, and once in it is unnecessary to leave them until the hour for closing at night. There are ample resources for feeding the multitudes within the grounds at moderate prices, the restaurants being under official control. Most of the railroads give excursion rates.

To Settle the Samoan Question.

BERLIN, May 7.—A committee of the Samoan conference has been directed to examine and report upon the means for establishing order in Samoa with adequate guarantees for the maintenance of peace, including the question of a King.

Dr. Knappe severely censures the "loose discipline" of the American sailors in Samoa. He accuses them of thievish propensities and a fondness for liquor.

Carnot's Assailant Insane.

PARIS, May 7.—Much of the excitement over Sunday's assault on President Carnot has subsided, as the medical examination of the man calling himself Perrin has shown he is a lunatic with the hobby of a grievance against the government. He will be ordered to confinement in an asylum.

Striking Miners Raise a Riot.

BERLIN, May 7.—Miners on a strike at Gelsehkironen, Westphalia, engaged in a riot Sunday and wrecked a number of shops. The police dispersed them with drawn swords ard order was restored with the assistance of a detachment of troops.

Destruction of an Immense Perfumery.

LONDON, May 7.—The immense soap and perfume manufactory of the Messrs. Gibbs was burned this morning. The loss will exceed $1,000,000.

SMALLEY'S REPORT.

Brilliant Scene When Carnot Arrives, but Enthusiasm Lacking.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Smalley's Paris cable says: "As a mere spectacle Sunday's ceremony cannot be compared with scores which the last twenty years have witnessed in Paris. In itself it was interesting rather than splendid, the soldiers excepted, who are both interesting and splendid.

The preparations on the spot were simple enough. The low pavilion, in cloth of broad red and gold stripes, square, with two oblong wings, had been erected in front of the old salle des Menus, now destroyed. On the avenue de Paris was the central pavilion, carpeted in red, and furnished with gilt chairs covered with red velvet. The town was decorated elegantly but not profusely. The broad avenue with its four rows of trees, blossoming and rich in their spring foliage, was guarded by troops and gendarmes. Knots of them were here and there, in front of and about the Presidential pavilion. Opposite the pavilion, beyond the main roadway, there was space for many thousand spectators. The police left most of it rigorously vacant; why was a mystery, for it was the only good place for seeing what passed, and was never occupied by troops or anybody else. It happened that shortly before 2 o'clock President Carnot arrived. He had come at his time, and several great functionaries, who should have received him, were not there. He drew up to the music of artillery, which his horses clearly did not like, nor his coachman. A squadron or two of cavalry escorted him. The troops, extending far on either hand, presented arms. He was well received, but with no great enthusiasm. Hats came off, but they were not waved. It was only President Carnot, who, rather oddly, acknowledging the greetings as he sat in his landau, waved his hat to the cheering crowd. With him were M. Tirard, prime minister, and Gen. Brugere, his military secretary.

RODE UNDER WATER.

Bicyclist Webb Has a Remarkable Experience Through an Accident.

LAWRENCE, Mass., May 7.—Bicyclist James Webb has discovered the utility of his bicycle as a submarine vehicle of locomotion.

When the steamer Carlotta sank the other day on a ledge in the Merrimac river Webb and several other wheelmen were on the deck of the steamer. Webb was mounted on his bicycle doing a "standstill" act. His friends all managed to swim ashore, with no more damage than a thorough wetting, but Webb and his bicycle were thrown over the side of the vessel and sank as promptly as did the boat immediately afterward.

Webb is thoroughly at home in the water, and when he went overboard did not think of letting go of his machine. It was too valuable to lose, so he clung to the handles and they both went down together, Webb in the saddle and sitting bolt upright. The wheel must have slid down between two stones, for when the machine struck the bottom it remained upright. Instinctively Webb's feet sought the pedals, and putting forth his muscle he actually propelled the bicycle over the hard sandy bottom and up the incline of the ledge for a distance of sixty feet.

A loud cheer greeted the appearance of the submerged bicyclist, and he was warmly congratulated by his friends. There have been some people skeptical enough to doubt the truth of this performance, but when shown through a waterglass the wheel track in the sand they have been promptly convinced.

THE PRESIDENT NOT SICK.

Reports of His Having Bright's Disease Denied by the Family Physician.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 7.—The report from Washington that President Harrison is troubled with Bright's disease has caused considerable speculation, and some of those who have known him well appear to credit the story. Dr. Henry Jameson, for years the family physician, was shown the Washington article to-day and asked about the truth of the story. "There is not a shadow of truth in it," said he. "After his nomination several of the life insurance companies were eager to get his patronage, and one of them did. I examined him at that time and found him all right. There was surely no evidence of kidney disease. If he had been afflicted with the disease there would be no help for him, although a milk diet might prolong his days, but he was not. His heart was normal, and you may say for me that I never gave him such warning as the article you have shown me sets forth."

POSITIVELY the most economical soap to use for the toilet is the IVORY SOAP. The cakes are so large that you really get twenty cents worth of soap for a dime.

A WORD OF WARNING.

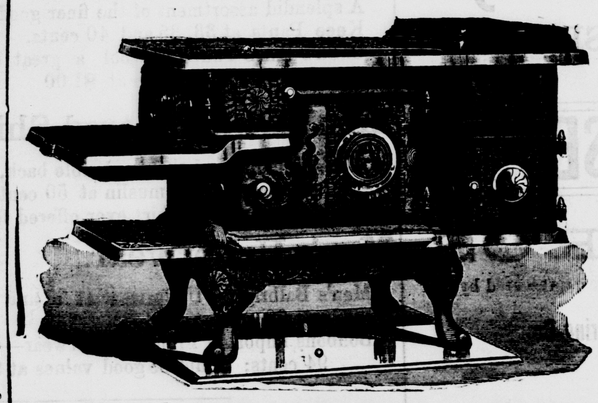

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

THE CASUALTY RECORD.

MUCH DAMAGE BY FOREST FIRES UP NORTH.

Thousands of Acres of Valuable Timber Destroyed—Losses by the Winnipeg Blaze—Accidents.

MILWAUKEE, Wis, May 7.—Recent rains have checked somewhat the progress of the forest fires, but a protracted storm will be required to completely subdue them. Every incoming train reports a fresh list of damages, and the total will probably reach over $1,000,000. On both sides of Pike Lake station, even during a rainstorm, the flames fanned themselves into fury, and the tall pines fell and shriveled up like matches. For miles this side of Ashland the forests are one sheet of blazing fire. West of Northern Pacific Junction the fire has done a great deal of damage, completely cleaning out the timber in some localities and destroyed thousands of ties and poles and hundreds of cords of wood. For a great distance this side of Hinckley, on the St. Paul & Duluth road, during the night the track was as light as day.

SIX MEN DROWNED.

A Sloop Capsizes With Disastrous Results.

ST. JOHN, N. B., May 7.—Six persons left St. Andrews in a sloop Saturday afternoon bound for their home at a neighboring place called Dideqnash. Soon afterward a man named Holt saw the sloop capsize. He pulled to the spot, but the little vessel and all the men had gone to the bottom. A government cruiser has undertaken to grapple for the bodies. The names of the lost are Isaiah Flynn, Clementson Flynn, Henry Barnes, Thomas Anderson, and a man named McTennan and his son John. Some of them were married and had families.

Big Fire at Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, Man., May 7.—Fire Monday morning destroyed the following places: Bell Brothers, C. A. Barkerville's hardware establishment, M. E. Parmenter's station, Nickel-plate hotel, M. Ropstein's stationery, G. Anderson's provision house, R. Lyon's boots and shoes, Jewish synagogue and the Brooklyn hotel. The fire at 2 a. m. was practically under control. The Zion Methodist church and other large buildings were badly scorched, but saved with little damage.

Ed McKoown, a well-known sporting man, ran the Nickel-plate hotel. He loses everything, his insurance policies having expired May 1 and he had neglected to renew them.

Entire Family Lost.

BRAXTON, W. Va., May 7.—W. P. Harr, his wife and two children, while on their way to visit a neighbor, had occasion to cross a swollen stream.

The family attempted to get across first in a canoe, but half way over it upset and all were thrown out. The wife and one one child immediately sank. Harr, who was an expert swimmer, seized the other child, and made a desperate effort to escape, but was swept down the stream, and both he and his child were drowned. The bodies have been recovered.

Libby Prison in a Wreck.

MAYSVILLE, Ky., May 7.—A freight train on the Chesapeake & Ohio road, which was transporting the famous Libby prison from Richmond to Chicago, was wrecked seven miles east of here to-day, by the breaking of an axle of one of the cars. The remains of the war relic were profusely scattered about, and people flocked to the scene all day to secure old bricks and lumber as mementos. No one was hurt.

LATIMER FOUND GUILTY.

The Matricide Coolly Hears the Verdict of Murder in the First Degree.

JACKSON, Mich., May 7.—R. Irving Latimer was found guilty of the murder of his mother on Jan. 21. An hour before the proceedings were resumed a vast crowd surged about the court house demanding admission. Never before in the history of Jackson was there such a universal feeling of uneasiness. F. A. Wilson spoke from the opening of court till noon. He delivered a powerful address. He told the jury that the people had not made out their case. Edwin F. Conely of Detroit, closed for the people. He spoke for three hours and closed at 5 o'clock. Judge Peck began the charge five minutes later. The reading of the instructions occupied an hour and a half.

When the jurors retired the prisoner was taken to the jail and the judge went home to dinner. Everybody expected to wait several hours. But this was not to be, for as Latimer was eating his supper an officer entered the jail and told him the jury was in. Although the prisoner knew that this meant conviction, he said not a word but with a smile on his cruel mouth he deliberately lighted a cigar and entered the court room to hear his doom. Latimer stood and listened to the verdict with the same unconcern that has characterized his action all through his long trial. He showed not the slightest sign of emotion, and when he was ushered from the court room coolly lighted a cigar. After the verdict court adjourned. Judge Peck said the time of sentence would depend somewhat on what the counsel for the defense did, but, in any event, would not be long deferred. The first ballot stood ten for conviction and two blanks. On the second ballot twelve votes were cast for murder in the first degree. The jury was out seventeen minutes and returned the quickest murder verdict on record.

Ready to Enter Sioux Lands.

CHAMBERLAIN, D. T., May 7.—The bluffs along the Missouri are covered with the white prairie schooners and the tents of hardy farmers from Iowa and other eastern States, who have here cast their tents in the anticipation of the speedy opening of the Sioux reservation. It is expected that when the reservation is opened the rush for claims will resemble the Oklahoma rush, as the land is much better and the amount many times greater.

A Daring Little Burglar.

WABASH, Ind., May 7.—Last evening Jordan Rhodes, the most desperate criminal for his age (11 years) ever imprisoned here, escaped from the deputy sheriff and boarded an eastbound Wabash train. He was heard from at Roanoke this morning, where he robbed a house last night, securing a number of valuables. Rhodes was to have been taken to the State reform school to-day for larceny. The lad was captured at Union station by Sheriff Squires.

Agony is Courted.

By persons who, attacked by a mild form of rheumatism, neglected to seek prompt relief. Subsequent torture is prevented by an immediate resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Slight exposure, an occasional draught, will beget this painful malady, where there is a predisposition to it in the blood. It is not difficult to arrest the trouble at the outset, but well nigh impossible to eradicate it when matured. No evidence in relation to this superb blood depurent is more positive than that which establishes its efficacy as a preventive and remedy for rheumatism. Not only is it thorough, but safe, which the vegetable and mineral poisons, often taken as curatives of the disease, are not. Besides expelling the rheumatic virus from the system, it overcomes fever and ague, biliousness, constipation and dyspepsia.

BASEBALL GAMES.

The Result of a Day's Games—The National League.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 7.—The Chicago-Cleveland game was replete with alternately good and bad play, but the home team clearly outbatted and outfielded their opponents. The score:

Clevelands	1 8 8 0 0 0 1 3 0—11
Chicagos	3 0 0 0 1 0 1 0 3— 8

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 7.—New York jumped heavily on Sanders in the first three innings and knocked out enough runs to win the game. The score:

New Yorks	5 4 3 0 0 0 1 0 *—13
Philadelphias	2 0 0 2 2 1 1 1 0— 9

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 7.—The Pittsburg club defeated the home team in a closely contested game. Daily's batting was exceptionally strong and effective. Dunlap's fielding was brilliant and Beckley made a fine record. The score:

Pittsburgs	2 0 1 0 0 0 2 0 2—7
Indianapolis	2 0 0 0 2 2 0 0 0—6

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The defeat sustained by the Washingtons at the hands of the Boston team was probably the worst drubbing ever administered to a professional club representing this city. The heavy hitters of the visiting team gave an exhibition of batting that has seldom been seen here. The score:

Bostons	2 0 7 3 4 0 7 0 *—23
Washingtons	0 0 1 1 0 1 0 0 0— 3

American Association Games.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 7.—The Browns did some heavy batting and won a close game in the ninth inning. The score:

St. Louis	0 1 3 0 0 4 1 0 2—11
Kansas City	1 5 0 0 0 1 0 2 0— 9

CINCINNATI, Ohio, May 7.—Timely batting and daring base running won the game with Louisville for the Cincinnatis. The features of the game were the fielding of Beard and Raymond. The score:

Cincinnati	0 3 1 1 0 2 0 0 0 1— 8
Louisville	2 1 0 0 1 1 2 0 0 0— 7

Inter-State League.

PEORIA, Ill., May 7.—The game between the Distillers and Hoosier clubs resulted in a victory for the latter by the timely hitting in the eighth inning. The score:

Evansvilles	1 0 3 1 1 0 0 4 *—10
Peorias	0 2 0 2 1 2 0 0 0— 7

BURLINGTON, Iowa, May 7.—The third game between the Burlington and Springfields resulted in a score of 22 to 14 in favor of the home team.

DAVENPORT, Iowa, May 7.—The game here between the Quincys and the home team resulted in the overwhelming defeat of the latter by a score of 14 to 2.

TAKING IT EASY.

The Senators Do Nothing Beyond Meeting and Adjourning—At Lansing.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 7.—The usual Monday evening program was enacted in the Senate chamber. About a dozen senators were present when Lieut.-Gov. Ray's gavel fell at 5 o'clock. No business whatever was attempted beyond the suspension of the further reading of the journal after the clerk had read a few words and an adjournment was taken.

LANSING, Mich., May 7.—A bill passed the House in committee of the whole which is the initial step on the part of several Detroiters to secure control of great tracts of valuable low lands along the shore of Lake Huron, in the Lower Peninsula. This is to be drained and stockraising on a wholesale scale inaugurated. The bill authorizes the formation of stock companies for this purpose and limits the amount of land one company may control to 10,000 acres.

The bill requiring the State to adopt the Rhine's voting machine as the official ballot-box was adversely reported to the House. The bill was tabled, despite the efforts of the powerful lobby that has been here for weeks in Rhine's interests.

REGARDING NEWFOUNDLAND.

English Politicians Somewhat Disturbed Over the Attidude of France.

LONDON, May 7.—The latest news of aggression in Newfoundland has disturbed the minds of politicians, who have urged the Government to take prompt and effective measures to support British interests on the French shore.

The government, however, seems to entertain little hope of advancing toward a settlement, especially in view of the ill feeling created in France by the British action regarding sugar bounties and in receiving Gen. Boulanger with open arms, while refusing to take official part in the French exposition. The question will be raised in the House of Commons shortly. Many Liberals are strongly opposed to what they regard as the unfriendly action of the government toward France in deference to the wishes of Germany.

Cleveland's Stable Sold.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The seal-brown horses which generally pulled President Cleveland when he went out riding and the ex-President's carriages and stable outfit were sold at auction. Secretary Blaine drove up just before the sale and after examining the carriages spoke to ex-Representative Swett in regard to the victoria and then drove off. He did not, however, secure the victoria, as Mr. Swett's bid was not high enough. The seal browns were first put up for sale and the bidding was started at $100 for each horse, and they were finally sold for $141 apiece.

Prospect of Another Riot at Manistee.

MANISTEE, Mich., May 7.—The Polish church riot is likely to break out again at any moment. Father Grachowski has been persuaded by his friends not to leave for Chicago, and the fact that he intends to remain has aroused the rioters, who have commenced arming themselves for another conflict. They are determined to drive the priest out of town, and if he persists in remaining there will be another fight.

A Train Attacked by a Mob.

TRIESTE, May 7.—A railway train having on board 800 pilgrims to Rome was assailed by a tremendous crowd here yesterday and bombarded with stones. The train was hurriedly pulled out of the station to escape the shower of missiles, but was attacked in a similar fashion at several other stations. Twenty-four persons were more or less injured by stones and broken glass and the railway carriages were almost completely wrecked.

Hill Mum on the Subject of Marriage.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 7.—Gov. Hill declines to discuss the rumor that he was to be married in June to Miss Hotchkiss of Elmira. An intimate friend of Gov. Hill says that while he has no positive knowledge about the domestic establishment on Eagle street he would not be surprised to see the bachelor quarters broken up before fall.

Two Sick New Yorkers.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Ex-Congressman Lyman K. Bass is resting quietly, but his physicians report that he is growing weaker.

Secretary of State Frederick Cook continues to improve. The fever has entirely left him and his general connition is better.

A Sound Legal Opinion.

E. Bainbridge Munday Esq., County Att., Clay county, Texas, says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malarial Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: He positively believes he would have died, had it not been for Electric Bitters.

This great remedy will ward off as well as cure all Malarial Diseases, and for all Malarial Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders stands unequaled. Price 50c. and $1 at F. Sherer & Co's Drugstore.

IT IS NOT YET SOLVED.

CHICAGO'S TRUNK MYSTERY AS DARK AS EVER.

Possibilities of Another Murder—An Attempted Cremation—Averted a Lynching—The Criminal Record.

CHICAGO, May 7.—The disappearance of Dr. P. H. Cronin is still a mystery. Over a hundred policemen and detectives from the Chicago and Lake View forces, besides a number of private detectives employed by friends of the missing doctor are engaged on the case.

Chief Villiers of the Lake View police took the tuft of hair found in the blood-stained trunk to Dr. Cronin's barber. The barber, who has often shaved the doctor, stoutly asserted that he would recognize the hair if it came from Dr. Cronin's head. When he was shown the hair he at once said it was quite different from the doctor's. The barber is positive that the hair did not come from the doctor's head.

On the other hand Mr. and Mrs. Conklin, with whom Dr. Cronin had lived about nine years, are almost equally positive that the hair in the trunk is Dr. Cronin's and that it is proof that he was murdered. The officials appear to have considerable confidence in the judgment of the Conklins that the hair was Dr. Cronin's.

Capt. Schaack took a clot of the blood found in the mysterious trunk to Dr. Belfield for examination. The doctor submitted the blood to all the known tests and declared it human blood recently from the veins.

Capt. Schaack does not think the bunch of hair came from Dr. Cronin's head. He was quite well acquainted with the doctor, and the two belonged to the same lodge. Capt. Villers has made a microscopic examination of the hair found in the trunk and has concluded that it had been cut by some sharp instrument two or three inches from the scalp. Capt. Villiers said last night:

"I do not think Dr. Cronin's body was ever in that trunk."

"Where do you suppose the doctor is?"

"I think he will turn up."

Justice Mahoney said he knew the doctor very well and hinted that he was a little peculiar at times. The doctor was a powerful man. It would take one of more than ordinary strength to overcome him in a struggle

Capt. Villiers said last night that it seemed pretty certain that the hair found in the trunk was that of a woman. He said he thought he was on the track of two persons with such circumstances connecting them with the affair as would warrant him in arresting them. He is of the opinion, since conferring with Capt. Schaack, that the trunk mystery is an incident in a crime committed at the time the Cronin disappearance took place. He is almost certain now that the body of a woman was in the trunk and that she was murdered. Who she was and who her murderers were, he thinks will shortly be made known.

A FATAL SUNDAY ROW.

Three Kentucky Boys Shot, Two Fatally, in a Quarrel with a Saloonkeeper.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7.—William Dietrich, 17 years old, died at 10 o'clock this morning from wounds received at the hands of Sebastian Ebbinger Sunday afternoon. Frank Burton, 17 years old, and Rudolph Gossman, 19 years old, were also shot at the same time by Ebbinger, and Gossman will die. The shooting occurred in the country, near the blind asylum, and in front of Joseph Werner's saloon. The boys had gone out to spend the day in the woods. They took a keg of beer with them, but late in the afternoon Burton announced that he would treat the other boys to wine. They went to Werner's saloon, but he had none of the kind they wanted, and the boys began "guying" him. Werner got very angry and chased them out of the saloon. He struck them several times and the boys began throwing stones in return. Ebbinger was in the saloon, and hearing the row dashed out to take Werner's part. The boys continued throwing, and Ebbinger drew a revolver and began firing at them. Burton and Dietrich were shot through the bowels and Gossman in the neck. Ebbinger was arrested. He pleads self-defense. He is a young man and has no occupation, but has been trying to get employment from Werner as a bartender. This is supposed to be the reason he interfered in the quarrel.

TRIED TO CREMATE THEM.

Desperate Attempt to Burn a Building and Its Sleeping Occupants.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, May 7.—A dastardly attempt to burn a building and a half-dozen human beings was made early this morning. Officers passed the house of Thomas Mulvehill, ex-city clerk, and, trying the door, found everything all right. They had scarcely reached the next corner when a burst of flame and a rumble as of an explosion attracted their attention, and looking back the Mulvehill place seemed enveloped in fire. The fire was soon extinguished. An examination disclosed the fact that the room in which the fire originated had been sprinkled with coal oil and that bundles of rags soaked with oil lay scattered about. Albert Albers and a nephew, who have a bakery next door, were arrested on suspicion.

BAD FOR IVES AND STAYNER.

The Two Ex-Railroad Kings in Great Danger of the Penitentiary.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, May 7.—There appears to be little doubt that Ives and Stayner are good for terms in prison. It is commonly supposed that the indictments against them are based on their unauthorized issue and use of Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton stock, but a new indictment has been made based on what appears to be one of the most magnificent steals of modern times. It appears that Ives and Stayner, soon after they got hold of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, effected a regular issue of $7,000,000 stock, carrying with it the voting power. Of this they are said to have actually appropriated no less than 480 shares of $1,000 each, thereby securing absolute control of the road.

THOMAS SKENE ARRESTED.

Prof. Matchett's Alleged Slayer in Jail —A Lynching Barely Averted.

GALENA, Ill., May 7.—Young Skene, who, it is alleged, murdered Prof. Matchett of Hanover Sunday, was turned over to the sheriff Monday by his elder brother. Skene was placed behind the bars here, and although identified as the man who fired the fatal shot, he persists in denying his guilt, and says that he can establish his innocence at the proper time. His surrender took place at Hanover while the inquest over the remains of Prof. Matchett was being held. The sheriff took his prisoner and started at once for this city. He was none to soon, for a mob was quietly formed at Hanover for the purpose of lynching Skene.

The New Discovery.

You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, that when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or any throat, lung or chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded. Trial bottles free at F. Sherer & Co's drugstore.

THE PITH OF THE NEWS.

Junction City, Wis.—Paley Crocker had killed his son-in-law, George Walker.

New York—Joel B. Ebhardt, the new Collector, has taken possession of the office, Mr. Magone retiring.

Boston, Mass.—The Hon. Edward S. Tobey was re-elected as president of the American Peace society.

New York—Lady Lonsdale, wife of the titled Englishman who has been exploring Arctic regions, has arrived here.

Columbus, Ind.—Ed Coyle, proprietor of a gambling house, was arrested for murderously assaulting a visitor at his place with a poker.

Watertown, N. Y.—The Ontario paper mill was fired in four places, but the flames were speedily quenched. The night watchman has been arrested.

Washington—The Assistant Attorney-General has rendered an opinion that appointments under the census act are not within the civil service rules.

Lima, Ohio—Maud Oaneson, a 10-year-old girl, set fire to the barn of James Hawer, with whom she was living, burning it with all its contents, including three horses.

Providence, R. I.—Lincoln Curtis, chief salesman in the wholesale boot and shoe house of Congdon & Aylsworth, was arrested on a charge of embezzling $12,000 of the firm's money.

New York—The visible supply of wheat and corn is respectively 25,270,734 and 12,118,861 bushels. Since last report wheat decreased 771,475 bushels, and corn fell off 412,329 bushels.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Geo. W. Alley, Jr., is said to have abandoned his wife, after defrauding her out of several thousand dollars. Allen had been in the coal business on money supplied by his spouse.

Manteno, Ill.—Philip Roy, a 12-year-old boy living near nere, was kicked to death by a horse. The boy was allowing the horse to feed by the roadside, and had laid down and tied the rope to his leg. The horse ran away, kicking the boy at every jump.

Ottawa, Ont.—It is reported that negotiations are in progress for either a consolidation of the Northern Pacific, the Manitoba, and the Northwestern roads into one system, or a traffic agreement that will permit trains of either road to pass over the other's tracks.

Disease in Condensed Breaths.

If the condensed breath collected on the windows or walls of a room that several people have been occupying were assembled and burned it would give off a smell like singed hair, thus showing the presence of organic matter. If it were left for a few days and then examined under the microscope it would be found to be putrescent and alive with animalculæ. In such a condition it would form a powerful factor in promoting disease, but it can always be got rid of by the free circulation of fresh air through the room.

Another Storm Said to Be Coming.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The signal service sends out a special weather prediction which says: "There is a storm of considerable energy extending over the Missouri valley and the Northwest, which will probably move eastward, causing rain in the lake regions Tuesday. The weather is likely to remain fair and warmer on the Atlantic coast during the rest of Monday and until Tuesday evening, followed during Tuesday night or Wednesday morning by rain and cooler weather."

Why a Negro's Skull is Thick.

Why is a negro's skull harder and thicker than a white man's? Herodotus explained it by attributing it to the early exposure of African children to the heat of the sun, and Prof. Virchow, after his trip up the Nile, sides with the Greek historian. Perhaps in the course of a few centuries the American negro's skull will become thinner and more brittle.

Double Murder in Georgia.

ALBANY, Ga., May 7.—William Gilmore, a prominent young man of Albany, last evening shot and killed his 17-year-old wife and then killed himself. Domestic trouble was the cause.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non irritating. The medical profession has been slow, to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs, powders, syringes, astringents or any similar application, because they are all irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm.

WOMEN WITH PALE COLORLESS FACES who feel weak and discouraged, will receive both mental and bodily vigor by using Carter's Iron Pills, which are made for the blood, nerves and complexion.

A NOVEL IMMIGRATION.

THE SETTLEMENT OF OKLAHOMA TERRITORY.

The Mad Rush on the Opening Day for the Fertile Lands and Promising Town Sites of the New Country—Suffering and Discouragements for the New-Comers.

Never in the history of the settlement of America has there been an occurrence like that which was witnessed in the taking possession of Oklahoma by the thousands of settlers and the boomers who had been waiting for months for the opening of the country on the 22d of April by Presidential proclamation. Thousands had gathered at the borders of the Territory, impatiently awaiting the day when they would be allowed by the representatives of the National Government to cross over and possess the "Land of Promise," as they believed it to be. The opening day came, and the hour of 12, the moment when the restrictions were to be removed, found a long line of restless immigrants, with families and wagons, almost all the way along the accessible borders of the Territory. Hundreds who had foreseen the rush that would be made for choice locations the moment the boundaries were allowed to be crossed, had provided themselves with fleet running horses and, with steeds carefully groomed and saddled, sat in their saddles on the banks of the narrow stream listening for the opening signal, and when the bugle blast announced Oklahoma was open, the mad race of these riders was the most remarkable contest of the kind ever seen.

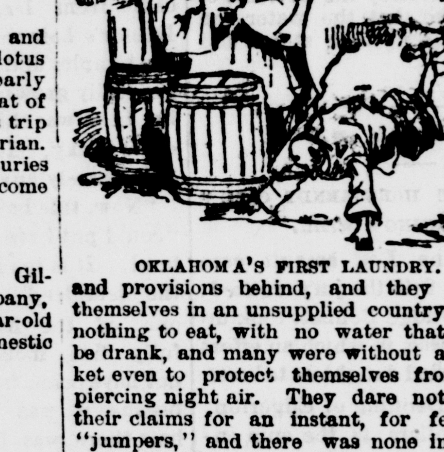

On Nature's track, now the smooth, rolling prairie, and again the rough brushland, sped riders and horses, tumbling over each other in their eager haste, with wild shout of triumph and sharp crack of pistol to urge on the fleeing animal, until the desired spot had been reached, and with the driving of a single stake to indicate possession, the prize was won. Those cumbered with wagons came along at a slower pace, but at a rate that caused many an ignominious wreck, scattering the contestant's worldly possessions to the sweeping winds of the far southwest. In an hour Oklahoma, previously a desolate region, uninhabited by man or beast, was filled with an eager, restless horde of claimants, each one ready to fight to the death, if need be, for the rights he had secured by his swift race. Many contests there were, and many are the disappointed ones, but it is to the credit of the settlers that there were few resorts to the force of arms. The courts will be invoked to settle disputes, and the man who takes the law in his own hands is pretty sure to get much the worst of the struggle, for the vast majority will not allow the triumph of might over right.

Twenty-four hours later many of the settlers were in a sorry plight. They had entered the Territory leaving all supplies and provisions behind, and they found themselves in an unsupplied country, with nothing to eat, with no water that could be drank, and many were without a blanket even to protect themselves from the piercing night air. They dare not leave their claims for an instant, for fear of "jumpers," and there was none in those parts who had come to supply people with anything—everyone had come for claims and had thought of nothing else. Paying $1 in the cities for a cup of coffee and a slice of stale bread was hard enough, but on the outside not that much could be had for love or money. The settlers had to wait in their hunger and thirst till their friends or families arrived.

Many became disgusted, and within thirty-six hours were abandoning the lands they had undergone so much to obtain. It was found that while there was fertile land in the Territory, there was much that was worthless, and those who had previously been in the Territory had marked the rich tracts and seized them at the first possible moment, while those who had never been there before found only the poor sections left at their disposal. There was was much suffering the first few days, and there will be much more before Oklahoma is developed. Some will there acquire wealth and power, but whether the great majority will be any more happy or prosperous in the wilds of the new country than they might have been by staying in their old homes among friends and neighbors, with the pleasant associations of a lifetime around them, is very much to be doubted.

Test of the Purity of Water.

Prof. Angell of Michigan university furnishes the following as a test of the purity of water for drinking: "Dissolve about half a teaspoonful of the purest white sugar in a pint bottle completely full of the water to be tested, and tightly stopped; expose it to daylight and a temperature up to 70 degrees Fahrenheit. After a day or two examine, holding the bottle against something black, for whitish floating specks, which will betray the presence of organic matter in considerable proportion."

A Sagacious Horse.

In Whitefield, N. H., the other day a drunken man passed through the street leading a horse by the bridle. The man walked with difficulty, but each time was steadied by the horse, the animal keeping a firm grip with its teeth on the man's collar. Finally the horse and the man met another intoxicated individual. In the course of their confab the men bumped together and both fell. The horse stood his owner on his feet and then deliberately turned and let fly viciously his hind feet at the prostrate form of the other man. His hoofs missed their mark, but the spectators gave him the credit of being a very sagacious animal.

HOW TO EAT BANANAS.

Hints From the Tropics on the Proper Disposition of a Luscious Fruit.

Ordinarily in this country bananas are eaten raw, says the American Analyst, but in tropical countries, while the natives eat them in like fashion, a more delicate and, it is said, a more healthy mode of eating them is in vogue. The soft, ripe fruit, eaten to a cream with a sufficiency of Amontillado sherry forms a delightful appetizer, and is the favorite way of eating the banana in certain parts of the West Indies and of the African coast. Taken in moderation at first rising in the morning, bananas are said to be preservative of health, and in this respect are in marked contrast with other tropical fruits, which are detrimental, rather than otherwise, to continued good health. An intoxicating drink is made from the banana, and on account of its astringent qualities is of considerable medical value. In Africa, and probably in other places also, bananas are, in a very large measure, the sole dependence for food supply of the natives. The banana when ripe, contains 74 per cent water; of the 26 remaining parts 20 are sugar and 2 gluten or flesh-forming substance. It is not in itself a perfect food, but requires the addition of some other nitrogenous material, as lean meat. The pulp of the banana, but more often of other plantain, is oft times squeezed through a sieve and formed into loaves, which, when ripe, will keep a very long time. In the dried state it has the resemblance of bread, both in taste and composition, but the ripened pulp is saccharine, and not farinaceous. At Panama the rarest and most delicious of the banana species has its home. Small and ruddy in color, it is popularly known as the thumb banana, and on account of its delicate flavor is much prized everywhere. It does not bear transportation well, although it may often be found in the markets of Chicago and New York. Crossing the Isthmus by the line that connects Panama with Aspinwall, the natives of the villages along the route make a habit of coming to the train, decked in primitive fashion, with garlands of flowers around their necks and flowers in their hair, and disposing of the fruit. Here the thumb banana may be eaten in its perfection.

Quite as Well.

A series of "railroad notes," stranger and truer than fiction, and ranging from the grave to the gay, might easily be made by an observant traveler who has occasion to be much on the road. "Where bee you goin', Mis' Steele?" inquired a farmer of an old lady, as he took a seat beside her in a car.

"Oh, I'm goin' to see Josiah's folks, and surprise 'em," returned she, beaming up at him. "'I never let 'em know I'm comin'. I like to drop in on 'em."

"Le's see, Josiah lives in Lowell?"

"No, in Great Falls. It's Maria that lives in Lowell."

"Then you're on the wrong train, Mis' Steele! Whatever was you thinkin' of to get aboard this, instid o' the 9:20?"

For an instant Mrs. Steele looked at him wildly, as if she might pull the bell rope or jump from the train. Then a smile broke over her features.

"What's to hender my goin' on to Lowell to see Maria?" said she. "Might as well surprise one as t'other. But Deacon Merrill, you jest shet your lips tight together, and don't tell o' this!"

Deacon Merrill was but human, however, and somehow or other the story got out.

An Eccentric Divine.

Belfast, Maine, once had an eccentric clergyman, known as Archie Harden. Among other stories told of him is one that a lady informed him that some one had stolen her ax. "O, no," said he, "I'll get it for you." He appointed a prayer meeting for the next evening and after talking a while he stopped, looked over the congregation, and said: "Somebody has stolen Sister P.'s ax, and if it is not brought back by to-morrow morning I will tell who has it. Glory to God." The ax was leaning against the wood pile next morning. It is also claimed that he reformed a kicking cow by praying for her, and that he once corrected a brother minister by stopping him in the middle of a sermon and praying over the mistake which he said the preacher had just made.

Equine Hospitality.

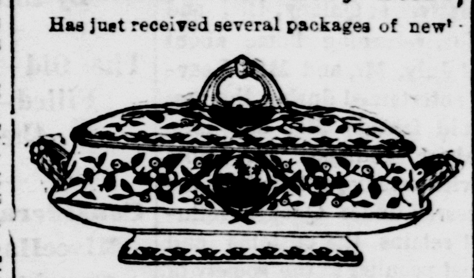

Billy, a horse attached to a police patrol station in Boston, has become known throughout the Hub by its liberality. A member of the mounted squad while answering roll-call ties his horse to the post forming one corner at the head of Billy's stall, and as soon as the animal is fastened Billy picks up a mouthful of hay, forces it through the iron grating about his stall, and waits until his guest has eaten it. Then he repeats the operation and continues his hospitality until the officer returns for his horse. Billy began to do this early in the fall, without any suggestion from the men, and he does it twice a day, much to the satisfaction of his visitor.

JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN

TO MONTANA, OREGON AND WASHINGTON.

If you are going west bear in mind the following facts: The Northern Pacific Railroad owns and operates 987 miles, or 57 per cent. of the entire railroad mileage of Montana; spans the territory with its main lines from east to west; is the short line to Helena; the only Pullman and dining car line to Butte, and is the only line that reaches Miles City, Billings, Bozeman, Missoula, the Yellowstone National Park and, in fact, nine-tenths of the cities and points of interest in the territory.

The Northern Pacific owns and operates 621 miles or 56 per cent of the railroad mileage of Washington, its main line extending from the Idaho line via Spokane Falls, Cheney, Sprague Yakima and Ellensburg, through the center of the territory to Tacoma and Seattle and from Tacoma to Portland. No other transcontinental through rail line reaches any portion of Washington Territory. Ten days stop over privileges are given on Northern Pacific second class tickets at Spokane Falls and all points west, thus affording intending settlers an excellent opportunity to see the entire territory without incurring the expense of paying local fares from point to point.

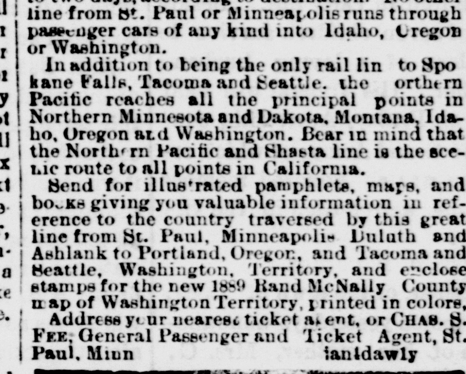

The Northern Pacific is the shortest route from St. Paul to Tacoma by 207 miles: to Seattle by 177 miles, and to Portland by 324 miles—time correspondingly shorter, varying from one to two days, according to destination. No other line from St. Paul or Minneapolis runs through passenger cars of any kind into Idaho, Oregon or Washington.

In addition to being the only rail line to Spokane Falls, Tacoma and Seattle, the Northern Pacific reaches all the principal points in Northern Minnesota and Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. Bear in mind that the Northern Pacific and Shasta line is the scenic route to all points in California.

Send for illustrated pamphlets, maps, and books giving you valuable information in reference to the country traversed by this great line from St. Paul, Minneapolis Duluth and Ashland to Portland, Oregon, and Tacoma and Seattle, Washington Territory, and enclose stamps for the new 1889 Rand McNally County map of Washington Territory, printed in colors.

A GOOD HONEST MEDICINE.

THE STORY OF A YEAR.

PHOTOGRAPH FROM LIFE TAKEN ONE YEAR AGO.

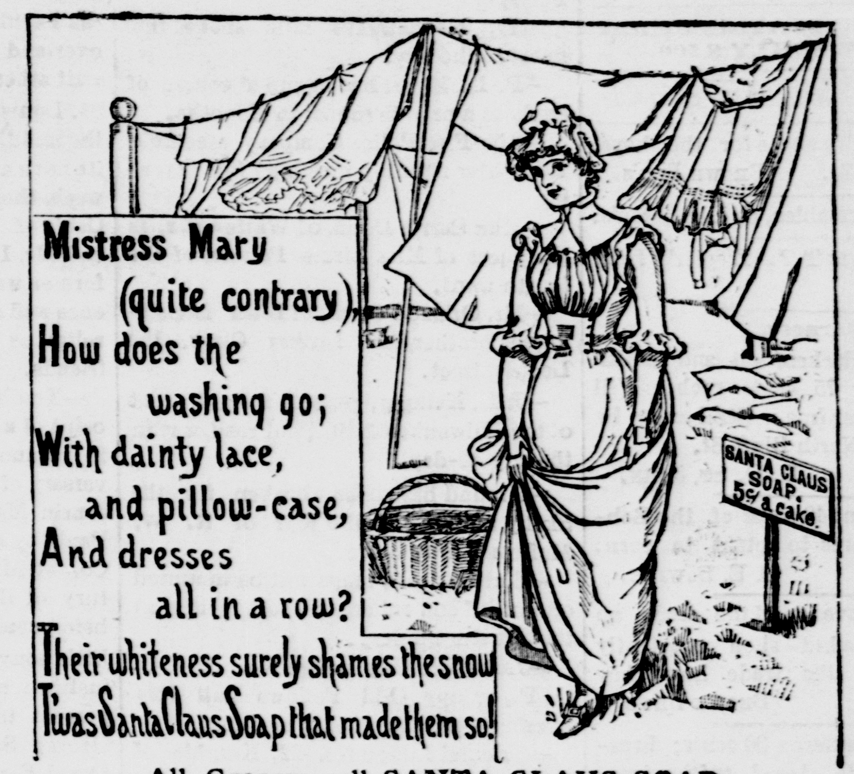

PHOTOGRAPH FROM LIFE AS SHE NOW APPEARS.

The above bright and benevolent face, is Dr. A. W. Acker, of England, discoverer of the celebrated Acker's English Remedy for Consumption and other popular preparations. Dr. Acker practised in his younger days among the middle classes of London, and was the means of doing great good, but his health failed and he found himself in the grasp of consumption, with a wife and child depending upon him for support. While in this condition, he discovered the celebrated English Remedy, saved his own life and has since saved the lives of thousands who were on the sure road to death. Any man or woman who feels a tickling in the throat, who coughs, especially in the morning, who raises or has a tight feeling across the chest, who has sharp shooting pains through the lungs or difficulty in breathing, should realize that these are the first symptoms of consumption which, if neglected, are sure to result fatally. Dr. Acker's English Remedy has cured more than one thousand persons who unquestionably had consumption and who were given up by their friends. It merits its popularity and is sold by reputable druggists in every city and town in America. You can't afford to be without it.

"Look on this picture and then on that." The above faces are exact reproductions of photographs taken from life of Mrs. Morton D. Harlan, who resides at No. 55 West 25th Street, New York City. The first one was taken in November, 1887, while in the last stages of consumption, abandoned by physicians and mourned by friends. The other was taken in December, 1888, when completely recovered, and entirely through the use of Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption. The above pictures are wood cuts, but they are true to life and the original photographs, taken from life, can be seen at all the drug stores. Mrs. Harlan's consumption began as consumption usually does, with a cough in the morning, raising of phlegm, tired and depressed feelings, a lack of appetite, the loss of flesh and pains throughout the body. She did not realize her extreme danger until it became almost too late, but she is in perfect health to-day. Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption is sold by all reputable druggists. You can't afford to be without it.

You should read THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS because, being a family newspaper, it's against the saloon. The home and the saloon are forever opposed. There can be no neutrals in this war. But THE DAILY NEWS is temperate in temperance. It isn't a prohibition organ—it's not sure prohibition is the best way of treating the evil—but it believes in prohibiting the saloon keeper from ruling and ruining in American society. If you would read, and have your family read, a newspaper which places the interests of the home higher than those of the saloon, read THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS.

Remember—Its circulation is 220,000 a day—over a million a week—and it costs by mail 25 cts. a month, four months $1.00,—one cent a day.

STATE OF WISCONSIN—COUNTY COURT—Rock County. In the matter of the estate of Preserved Albee.

STATE OF WISCONSIN, } ss
COUNTY OF ROCK }

The State of Wisconsin, to Harriet A. Albee, of the city of Chicago, in the state of Illinois:

It being made to appear to our County Court by the verified petition of D. E. Fifield, that you have never settled your account and been discharged from your trust as executrix of the last will of Preserved Albee, deceased, and that you have wrongfully refused and neglected to settle said account, although frequently requested so to do, by said petitioner and his co-surety.

Now, therefore, you are hereby cited and required to appear before our said court, at a regular term thereof, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Janesville, in said county, on the 4th day of June, 1889, at 9 o'clock a. m., and there to render and settle your account as executrix of the last will of Preserved Albee, deceased, and to show cause why you should not be removed and the letters testamentary heretofore issued to you be revoked.

Witness the Hon. J. W. Sale, judge [SEAL.] of our said county court, at his office in the city of Janesville, in said county, this 13th day of April, 1889.

J. W. SALE,

MORTGAGE SALE.—Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the money secured by a certain mortgage bearing date the 11th day of October, 1886, made executed, and delivered by D. P. Lacy and A. E. Lacy his wife, of the County of Rock and State of Wisconsin, as mortgagors, to William Turner of the town of Plymouth, county and state above named, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, for the County of Rock and State of Wisconsin, in Volume 52 of mortgages on page 122 at 10:50 o'clock in the forenoon of the 21st day of October A. D. 1886.

And whereas the amount claimed to be due on the said mortgage at the date of the first publication of this notice is the sum of three hundred seventy-six and seventeen one hundredths dollars ($376.17) viz., three hundred dollars for principal and seventy-six and 17-100 dollars interest, from the 11th day of October, 1886, no part of said principal or interest having been paid by or for said mortgagors.

And whereas no action has been commenced by or for the said William Turner to recover the said debt secured by the said mortgage or any part thereof. Now, therefore, notice is hereby given according to the statute in such case made and provided, that by the power of sale contained in said mortgage duly recorded as aforesaid, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises hereinafter described by the subscriber, the sheriff of Rock county aforesaid, at public auction to the highest bidder therefor, on Monday, the 10th day of June, A. D. 1889, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day at the front door of the postoffice in the city of Janesville in said county of Rock. The following is a description of the mortgaged premises so as aforesaid to be sold substantially as it is found in said mortgage.

The undivided one-half of the south sixty feet of a thirty feet wide strip off from the east end of lots numbered fifteen (15) and sixteen in block number two (2) in the village of Orford, according to a plat of said village, now on record in the office of Register of Deeds in said county of Rock, together with the addition to the drugstore.

—Mrs. J. Burns, of San Jose, California, is in the city the guest of her sister Mrs. Leavitt of the first ward. Mrs. Burns is one of the pioneer settlers of the Pacific coast, making her first trip overland thirty-six years ago. She will visit other relatives at Quincy, Ill., and St. Louis, Mo., returning home about the middle of July. Mr. and Mrs. Leavitt have also entertained during the past week, their old friends Mr. and Mrs. Cable of Wabash, Indiana. Mr. Cable and Mr. Leavitt were boys together; the former was reared under Quaker influence and still retains the customs and religious belief peculiar to the society of friends.

—The Gazette acknowledges the receipt of a handsome little souvenir issued in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of the Wisconsin Marine and Fire Insurance Co. Bank, by the late Hon. Alex. Mitchell & Co., of Milwaukee. The first half century of the career of this corporation being completed to-day, May 7th. This little souvenir contains a history of the institution from its foundation to the present time, together with portraits of George Smith, Alexander Mitchell and David Ferguson. There are also a number of views of Milwaukee in an early day and a series of views taken from the tower of the Mitchell building, showing the city as it now is.

OBITUARY.

MRS. SUMNER PARKER.

Mrs. Sumner Parker died at her home in the town of LaPrairie, near this city, at 6.15 o'clock this morning, aged 57 years. Deceased had been sick for the last six weeks, but death was not expected at this time.

Mrs. Parker, whose maiden name was Clara M. Fairbrother, was born in Waterville, Maine, in 1831. She married the late Sumner Parker and came to Wisconsin in 1854, settling in the town of La Prairie. Her husband died in 1884. Besides a large circle of intimate friends she leaves five children, three sons and two daughters to mourn her death, the children being Mrs. Emma Balentine, of Campbell, Minn, Fred. D. Parker, Geo. S. Parker, Cora B. Parker and Edward H. Parker. A woman of kindly heart and liberal views, Mrs. Parker made her influence strongly felt upon those about her, and made that influence a power for good.

The funeral will be held from the home in the town of La Prairie on Thursday at two o'clock.

ROBERT BAKER.

Robert Baker died at his home in Brodhead, Wis., April 24th, aged 79 years 6 months and 9 days. Deceased settled in Orford in 1848, was a member of G company, 13th Wisconsin infantry and served during the war. In 1881 he removed to Brodhead where he resided until his death. Deceased was an exemplary christian gentleman, having joined the Methodist church in early life. Beside his wife six of seven children survive to mourn the loss of a loving husband and kind father. His funeral was held in Brodhead on Friday, April 26th, conducted by the Grand Army, of which organization he was an honored member and his remains were buried in the village cemetery.

MRS. G. DOUGLASS.

Mrs. W. Fisher, of the town of Rock, received a dispatch yesterday. announcing the death of her mother, Mrs. G. Douglass, of the town of Plymouth. Mrs. Douglass was visiting her son in Kansas, and was in her usual health when she left for the west a few days ago. The cause of her sudden death is not stated in the dispatch. Mr. Douglass and Mrs. Fisher started for Kansas last evening. The remains will be brought home for burial.

The reports of the municipal judge for the month of April, the statement of fees collected by the city marshal from January 1st to April 30th; and the April report of the board of education, were presented and referred.

The clerk read a lot of miscellaneous bills against the several funds. Referred

A communication was read from Mr. Ed. O. Smith, claiming the $25 reward offered for information leading to the conviction of the persons turning in the alarms of fire on April 30th. Referred to committee on fire and water.

The clerk read a report from the street commissioner, recommending work necessary to be done in the first and fourth words; also a statement of tools belonging to the city in his possession. Report received and placed on file.

Ald. Norris moved that that portion of the street commissioner's report relating to the repairing and building of sidewalks in the first and fourth wards be published in the Gazette and Recorder, that interested parties might govern themselves accordingly. Adopted.

Ald. Conrad, of the finance committee, reported in favor of allowing sundry bills against the several funds aggregating as follows:

General fund	$ 53 00
Fire and water fund	20 54
First Ward fund	26 85
Second Ward fund	31 05
Third Ward fund	35 63
Fourth Ward fund	26 62
Fifth Ward fund	2 25
Total	$195 74

The report was concurred in.

Ald. Baker, of the judiciary committe, reported that his committee had examined the bonds of the several applicants for saloon license, forty-nine for retail license and two for wholesale licenses, found the bonds in due form and sureties good, and moved that the same be approved. Adopted.

Ald Baker, of the same committee, reported back the April report of the judge of the municipal court as correct, also the statement of fees collected by the city marshal from January 1st to April 30th, and on his motion the papers were accepted and placed on file.

Ald. Baker, stated that a great many of the bonds for licenses were signed by the same person, which fact was not discovered by the judiciary committee until it was too late to have it remedied. He thought that no person should be allowed to sign more than one bond. This statement was thoroughly discussed, and finally Ald. Baker introduced an order which was adopted, to the effect that hereafter the council would accept of no man as surety on more than one bond.

At the request of the Health Officer, City Attorney Doe presented a set of blank orders which it was desired to have printed for the use of the health department, and on motion of Ald. Conrad the committee on printing was directed to have the necessary number of blanks printed.

Ald. Norris, of the license committee, reported in favor of granting license to all the applicants with the exception of C. E. Hanson, at 153 West Milwaukee street, stating that the committee reported adversely to granting Mr. Hanson a license upon the recommendation of Marshal Hogan. The report of the committee was unanimously adopted.

Those granted a license being as follows, with street numbers:—

Permits granted.

Ald. Rowe, of the committee on schools, reported back the April report of the board of education, as correct. Placed on file and ordered published.

Ald. Horn stated that complaints had been frequently made on account of the insufficient light in the public parks, and the gathering of obnoxious characters in those places, and moved that an electric light be placed in each park. Adopted.

On motion of Ald. Horn, the gas committee was directed to examine and report regarding the lighting of outlying districts with oil lamps.

Ald. McLean, of the fire and water committee, reported in favor of allowing Ed. O. Smith the reward of $25 for information furnished relating to giving false fire alarms. Adopted.

On motion of Ald. McLean the fire and water committee was directed to repair the cornice of the east side engine house.

Ald. McLean, that permission be granted to Chas. Skelly to occupy a portion of South Jackson street while building, under certain provisions named. Adopted.

Ald. McLean was excused from further attendance.

On the recommendation of Ald. Norris. of the park committee, a dozen new seats were ordered for use in the parks.

City Attorney Doe, to whom had been referred the claim of D. K. Jaffris for interest on his bill for paving West Milwaukee street, reported that the city was not liable for interest on contract work.

City Attorney Doe reported a form for a book for the street commissioner. After being examined it was referred back to a special committee consisting of the city attorney, and Alds. Jackman and Conrad, with instructions to perfect blanks for accounts to correspond.

Ald. Horn, to build a concrete walk on the west side of the fourth ward fire cistern. Adopted.

Ald. Horn, for the laying of stone crossings at the intersections of the following streets:—Pleasant and River; Lincoln and Holmes; Washington avenue and Cherry street; School and Cherry streets; Center and Cherry and Washington avenue and Park avenue. Adopted.

Ald. Hanthorn, for repairing Glen street, east of Milton avenue. Adopted.

Ald. Norris, to destroy the bottoms of the fire cisterns so that the water can escape and fill them up with stones and dirt. Adopted.

Adjourned.

THE LEE JURY IS OUT.

A VERDICT IN THE HORN-ARNDT CASE—JAMES DENNING'S WILL.

Testimony in the Lee assault case closed to-day. At 2:45 the jury retired.

This afternoon Judge Bennett took up the Denning will case, in which an effort is made by dissatisfied daughters to break the will of James Denning of Edgerton. Two thousand dollars is the sum involved.

In the case of Horn against Arndt and Wheeler a verdict was rendered for the plaintiff, the property in controversy being estimated at $275.

IMPALED ON A SWITCH TARGET

BRAKEMAN JAMES M'CONNELL MEETS WITH TERRIBLE INJURIES.

Hanging impaled on a switch target by the back of his head, Brakeman James McConnell, of the Janesville-Milwaukee train, was found Saturday afternoon. McConnell was well known in this city, having had a run from Janesville to Milwaukee for two years. Saturday while near Waukesha he was thrown from the baggage car door into a stone quarry by a lurch of the train. He fell directly on an iron swith target, the sharp point of the target penetrating his skull and holding him suspended until the train had passed and help arrived. One leg was also broken in several places by the fall. McConnell is married and has one child. He is now in the hospital at Milwaukee where it is announced that even should his wounds not prove fatal he will be unable to leave his bed for five months.

SEARCHED FOR HER ALL NIGHT.

A SISTER OF FATHER MUNICH RUNS AWAY WHILE TEMPORARILY INSANE.

A sensation has been caused in Racine by the escapade of the sister of the Rev. Father Munich. Father Munich, who was the first pastor of St. Mary's church in this city, is now pastor of the Church of the Holy Name in Racine. Saturday, night at eleven o'clock the young woman while temporarily insane, escaped from the house in only her night clothes. She was soon missed and an alarm given. The entire police force and a large number of citizens went in search of her, along the lake, the river and among the cisterns of the vicinity, fearing that she had carried into effect a recent threat to drown herself. The night was fruitlessly spent in the search. She has since returned home but refuses to give any information as to where she went.

BRODHEAD GOES DRY.

NO LICENSE CARRIES THE DAY IN YESTERDAY'S CHARTER ELECTION.

Brod head has decided in favor of no license.

At the village charter election, held yesterday, a full vote was polled. The issue—license, or no license—was sharply drawn. The following no license ticket was elected by an average majority of about 17: Trustees, W. E. Gardner, O. J. Barr, Charles J. Sherman, A. N. Randall and Henry Stair; supervisor J. N. Richardson; treasurer, J. G. Orr; justice, B. J. Gardner; constable, J. H. Donahue.

THE SCHOOLS AGAIN CROWDED.

Additional Room Is Needed For The Training of Janesville's Young Idea

Committees For the Year—A New Spelling Book And An Extra Teacher.

"The schools are crowded," was the substance of Superintendent Keyes report to the board of education last night. There was a time when such a report would have made the board rub their eyes and wonder what was the matter. But not now. Reports of the kind have become too common. Keeping the capacity of the schools up even with the growth in juvenile population, has left the board too busy to do anything but talk over plans and specifications.

Last evening Superintendent Keyes' complaint was chiefly regarding the fourth and second wards and the high school. He proposed to push the line separating the fourth and fifth wards two or three blocks nearer the river, thus transferring a portion of the children from the fourth district into the fifth. He also asked that an additional room be finished off in the second ward building; that Grade 2 instead of Grade 3 in the first ward be doubled and that an additional teacher be provided for the high school. One hundred pupils at Madison were cared for by ten teachers, while here the same number are cared for by three teachers and the superintendent. Commissioner Metcalf, Wilson and Kneff were appointed a committee to investigate and report.

Propositions from Sheldon & Co., and Effingham, Maynard & Co., to furnish spelling books to the school at twenty-five cents were referred to the text book committee. One or the other of the spellers will probably be adopted.

President McLean announced his standing committees for the year as follows:

Finance—Commissioners Kneff, chairman; McElroy and Smith.

Text Books—Commissioners Fethers, chairman; McElroy and Wilson.

Building committee—Commissioner Wilson, chairman; Metcalf and Fethers.

Visiting Committee—Commissioner Smith, chairman; Metcalf and Kneff.

HERMAN SPEAKS HIS PIECE.

A JANESVILLE BARBER GIVES IMPORTANT INFORMATION IN THE CRONIN CASE.

Was the lock of hair found in the blood stained trunk in Lake View Sunday from the head of Dr. Cronin?

Herman F. Wisch says it was not and the former Janesville man's testimony is considered by the police to be of much importance. Ever since opening his shop in the Windsor Theatre building, Chicago, nearly a year ago, Mr. Wisch has been Dr. Cronin's barber. Dr. Cronin's room was at 472 North Clark street in the same block.

"No," said Mr. Wisch when the lock of hair was shown to him, "that never came from Dr. Cronin's head. The Doctor's hair was trimmed very close on the temples and neck where the fine hair generally grows. The hair on the top of his head was thin and very coarse, and quite kinky. It was hard and dry, and had scarcely any oil in it at all.

"Now, this hair," the barber continued, "could not have come from the Doctor's head. It is too long to have grown on the temples," and he picked out one of the hairs, which measured fully five inches in length. It could not have come from the top of the head, because it was to fine. The doctor's hair, there, was long but very coarse, and would stand up stiff when we tried to brush it down. I remember the fact especially well, for the doctor used to remark that his hair was of the go-as-you-please kind and very refractory. Now this hair is very fine and will not sustain even its own weight. Besides the doctor's hair was a sort of sandy black, and this is quite reddish. Yes, I could almost swear that that lock of hair is not Dr. Cronin's head."

LACK OF WATER PRESSURE.

RACINE PEOPLE EXPERIENCE THE SAME TROUBLE AS JANESVILLE WITH WATER WORKS.

The Racine Water Works being owned and operated by the same water company as the Janesville plant, the machinery being similar, the following taken from the Racine Journal of Saturday will be read with interest:—

"The new fire hydrants just put in at Racine college were tested yesterday afternoon in the presence of the fire and water committee, fire marshal Abessor, city attorney Flett and others The test failed to come up with the requirements. The ordinance calls for 125 pounds direct pressure at the hydrant with six streams. It fell far short of this. The standpipe pressure calls for sixty pounds, but the test yesterday only gave fifty. When the direct pressure was put on two streams it came pretty near to 125 pounds, but when the six stream were put on, the test was given up as the pressure did not come anywhere near to the mark required. The fire and water committee say that the Water Company must fulfill every requirement."

FUN FOR THE LAWYERS.

RICHARD GARDE AND HIS DOUBLE-BARRELLED BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT.

Timothy Haines, the Beloit young man who broke Richard Garde's arm, has been held in the Illinois court in one thousand dollars bail.

From the fact that Garde is defendant in the breach of promise case brought by Haine's sister, it is said that the case led to Haines' assault. Haines, however, claims that his sister's case had nothing to do with his assault on Garde. The Garde case has quite a history. Last summer Garde was arrested for assaulting Fred Luhm, of Beloit, Garde claiming that Luhm had slandered a lady friend. Garde was fined and appealed his case. Then Luhm instituted a suit against Garde for $1,000 damages, and in a few days Luhm was sued for $1,000 damages for slander by the woman friend of Garde, and Luhm, being unable to furnish bail, lay in jail for some time. Then Miss Haines sued Garde for $10,000 damages for breach of promise. Now Miss Haines' brother is under arrest for assaulting Garde, and all the cases excepting Luhm's suit for damages are in the courts. Garde is an eccentric character and is quite rich.

GOSSIP ABOUT WOMEN.

Mrs. George B. McClellan, widow of the General, is understood to have decided upon an indefinite residence in Europe, where she has been a year.

Mrs. Amelie Rives-Chanler's newest photographs exhibit a unique mode of hair-dressing which, no doubt, will be eagerly copied by many women.

Queen Victoria objects to the general use of electric light at Windsor Castle, because it is too strong for her eyes, and it is therefore restricted to a few localities.

A noted woman journalist of the South is Miss Addie McGrath of Baton Rouge, La. In addition to her newspaper work she has written a number of novels.

Miss Magruder, daughter of the General who was in the Confederate army, is mentioned as having reigned all winter as the belle of the American colony in Florence.

Mrs. Morton, wife of the Vice President, has all her gowns and bonnets made in New York city. She has an exquisite taste and always knows what to wear and how to wear it.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox is a firm believer in the efficacy of physical exercise to preserve youth and good looks, and she uses the Indian clubs regularly for a half-hour every day.

How Miss Braddon can write fifty-seven good novels, raise a family of children, keep house, boss a husband, and go into society, is a mystery. She has done all these things and does not complain of being overworked.

Miss Emma Eames, the young American girl who made so successful a debut as Juliet at the Paris Grand opera house, has, besides her fine voice, a beautiful face and figure, with well-moulded arms and shoulders and pretty hands and feet.

H. R. H. the Princess of Wales, according to those who have lately seen her, is rapidly losing the beauty for which she has long been celebrated, and Time now ungallantly puts his marks upon the exemplary woman who is to be the future Queen of England.

Those who should know say that Miss Kate Drexel of Philadelphia knows more of Indian affairs than any man in the United States, and that she proves her sympathy with the dwindling race by spending nearly $100,000 out of her own pocket each year for their benefit.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Blake, the Boston writer who signs three modest initials, M. E. B., to some of the most poetical prose and truly poetic poesy, is the wife of a leading physician and the mother of several children, who find no rival in the literary work which engrosses only a portion of this author's time.

Lady Hornby, wife of Admiral Hornby, once bit a mad dog. It appears that the rabid creature was after her favorite puss, so Lady H. flew at the dog, and in the hurly-burly bit him on the back. Lady Hornby is one of the "characters" of London. She is not unamiable by any means, and her friends are fond of her.
